

Sai Krishna Thirupati

August 19, 2004 - February 5, 2025

Sai Krishna Thirupati has always been a sweetheart, a joyful presence who could light up any room with his energy and warmth. From childhood, he was known for his kindness, always willing to help and effortlessly engaging with younger kids. Among his cousins, he was a favorite—his presence meant endless fun, laughter, and cherished memories.

Sai had a way of sharing his wisdom, even from a young age. Whether playing basketball with kids, biking with friends, or simply chatting, he made every moment lively and special. His love for younger children was boundless, and he never hesitated to make them feel included and valued.

What made Sai even more remarkable was his curiosity and interest in financial discussions—something rare for someone his age. He had an innate ability to notice when help was needed and was always the first to step up.

As a caring big brother, cousin, friend, and son, Sai touched so many lives. His warmth, generosity, and infectious energy will always be remembered and cherished.
