“ Dear Beth, Richard, Christina, John, and Tommy

We are very saddened by Scott's passing and so sorry for your loss. However, we are also thankful for having the opportunity to know the warm and generous person Scott was. We are especially thankful for his devotion to you, his faith in God, his service to our country, and his example to us and our children for how to live life. His love and spirit will live on in you.

With deepest sympathy; Tom, Linda, Jessica, Eric and Kristin Harkness

“ I met Scott in Nov of 2000 when he interviewed me for a position at EDS. We hit it off immediately and I thought it was mainly because I was retired Navy. But as time went on, I realized everyone probably hit it off with him immediately. You could tell he was a special person. He made you feel relaxed and was always willing to talk business or just share a story. He always turned every situation into a positive one. He was in my prayers from the day he told me about his illness. Heaven has just increased in value. I will miss Scott. My prayers are now with his family.

“ Please accept my deepest sympathies. I had greatest respect and admiration for Scott during high school. HS West never produced a better all around scholar, leader, athlete, and friend. While on a Princeton fencing trip I visited him at the Academy in 1972 and he showed me around and was warm and hospitable as always. For 30 years when I think or read about the Academy, his image appears in my mind. I trust he enjoys heavenly hospitality now with the angels. May he rest in peace.

“ Beth and family,
Please accept my deepest condolences.
Scott roomed across the hall from me "youngster Year" and he was always upbeat and squared away. He'll be missed but his memory and sense of humor will live on.
Regards,
Smitty

“ Beth and family - I was stunned to learn of Scott's passing. It's been 30 years since I attended your wedding. Scott was my roommate, along with Dave Architzel, First Class year. He always showed me great kindness and was a great role model to me. God Bless you all at this time of Scott's graduation! May the Lord be with you always and He always be in your thoughts.
