“ Wes, April and family,
My heart is heavy for you all.. I will always remember the conversations Shiah and I shared throughout the years, never will forget the depth of our conversations we shared randomly throughout the years. Your loved one was a beautiful young lady, never to be forgotten. The battles that were endured here on earth are now over with, she is now at peace with Jesus., There really isn't words that can be said in a time such as this, as losing a child is the hardest thing to ever endure; my prayers are with you, dear Wes; please keep your faith strong in God. April, my heart is with you, always hold to the bond that you and your sister had; one day you all will be reunited again. Until that time comes, treasure all the memories, that are locked away in your heart. My heart goes out to all of you...
God bless,
Michelle

I knew Wes in high school and wrote to him until her returned from Viet Nam service in the military Air Force. Unfortunately I never met any of his children or his wife and mother of their children but I knew Wes's mother and sad to hear the hurt of the loss the CATON family has endured. Being raised in North VA and the great State I hope things grow better and forward with prayers and great wishes for everyone who has given their times to our great USA and the family history of our choices. May all those who have known and cared for others include the people you've not known as well as those you do in your daily prayers and God bless,

“Dear Wes - I am so very sorry for your family's loss. Although there is no deeper wound than losing a child, as a Marine who survived the Battle of Khe Sanh I know you will have the courage and the strength to lead your family through this time of crisis.

“ I knew Shiah when she was expecting Gabriel and before and after. Such a sweet person. I remember we would get ready together at her apartment in Manassas to go out somewhere. We got in contact about a year ago and messaged a few times. I am shocked and saddened at this news.
