“ I was fortunate to have known Teresa in her all-to-short journey through life. She was strong and brave in her battle against her disease. Teresa stood as a hero, an inspiration on how to live your life with grace and dignity even under the most difficult of circumstances. She never gave up until she finally found peace and rest. For those left behind, especially Billy, Taylor, and Sara, you'll find her memory, her smile, tucked in your heart and know she will be with you always.
