

Tyler James Hering

January 19, 1993 - May 8, 2025

Tyler James Hering, 32, passed away on May 8, 2025, in Bristow, Virginia. Born on January 19, 1993, in Portland, Oregon, Tyler brought light and creativity into the world from the very beginning.

He graduated from Freedom High School in Chantilly, Virginia, where his artistic spirit and vibrant personality began to flourish. Tyler had a deep passion for photography and mixed media art, often capturing the beauty of nature through his lens and transforming it into expressive works that resonated with those around him. His love for the outdoors extended beyond his art—he was an avid survivalist who found peace and inspiration in the natural world.

Tyler also embraced the digital age as a social media influencer, using his platform to share his creativity and connect with others. Music was another cornerstone of his life; it fueled his imagination and served as a constant companion throughout his journey.

Those who knew Tyler remember him as compassionate, loving, funny, and deeply artistic. His presence brought joy and comfort to many, and he had an uncanny ability to make others feel seen and valued.

He is lovingly remembered by his father, Troy Hering; his mother, Monica Giove; and his sisters, Brooke Hering and Kayla Hering. Tyler was preceded in death by his grandmother Karen McCrorey and cousin Reene Sliger.

A celebration of life including a prayer service will be scheduled and announced at a later date.

In honor of Tyler's generous spirit and enduring legacy, the family requests that donations be made in his name to Catholic Charities or the Epilepsy Foundation.

May Tyler's memory bring comfort to those who knew him and continue to inspire creativity and compassion in all who were touched by his life.

“ Tyler, you are very missed and loved by the people whose lives you have touched. Many friends who you've never met will forever remember you. We had hopes of seeing you prosper into old age, surrounded by the loving community you had amassed. Regardless of the outcome, your life carried meaning and you left a legacy that won't be forgotten. May you rest in eternal peace.

“ Tyler, although we had never met and would take months of not talking for no other reason than life getting in the way, whenever we did talk we would always share laughs about obscure American vs British comparisons and anything else that came up during our often brief but funny calls while trying to battle the time zone difference between us.

Thank you for being a friend and it's very sad to hear this news but I will always have the memories of your quirky catchphrases entering my mind every once and a while to keep the memory of you going.

The next time I'm at a bar and I see some obscure IPA that I know you would have liked, I'll grab it in your honour.

Cheers Tyler and condolences to the Hering family.

“ Rest in peace Tyler. We had a lot of great memories playing video games together and spent many hours chatting with each other and also within our friend group. I remember how happy you were working at Lowe's, riding around on your bike playing music with LED lights, how precious your 256GB iPod was to you and the joy you had from listening to indie and electronic music.

Despite the unfortunate events within your life that followed, you always had a great sense of humour throughout.

In a roundabout way, because of knowing Tyler, I was able to make it through a very dark time in my life.

While we did lose contact, of all the people I have met, I can say that Tyler was genuinely one of a kind, he was funny and entertaining with the countless stories that he told with his unique mannerisms and expressions.

My condolences to the Hering family and all that are affected.

You would love the weather the past few days during your favorite time of the year. It has been so mild and breezy and sunny. I went to the nursery over the weekend and got some Virginia bluebells in your memory. They're asleep right now, but I look forward to when they come up and bloom one day. “ Dear Family and Friends:

In the spirit of our new Holy Father, Pope Leo XIV's call to be Christocentric, the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass will be offered at Saint James Catholic Church in Falls Church, Virginia for Tyler James Hering. It will be held at 1:00 pm on May 30. Father Scalia will be celebrating the Mass. We as Catholics believe that Mass for the departed soul is an essential channel of grace for the journey to Heaven. In addition, the Mass will assist the grieving with extraordinary graces on the road to healing, comfort and peace. We chose Saint James in honor of Tyler's middle name and because his dear mum lives close to the parish. What makes a Mass different than a service? It is the presence of the Holy Eucharist; the Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Our Lord. This is epitome of Christocentric. His presence is the balm that will heal us.

“For the most holy Eucharist contains the Church's entire spiritual wealth: Christ himself, our passover and living bread. Through his own flesh, now made living and life-giving by the Holy Spirit, he offers life to men”. John Paul II, April 17, 2003

(After the agonizing death of Our Lord and the darkness that the apostles felt, no one would have guessed that He would return. One day, Tyler's body will rise and be united with his soul, just like Christ.)

“ Hi Tyler. It's your cousin.

You were one of my very first childhood friends, possibly even one of my first words. “Brooke n Tyler go see” was allegedly one of my first sentences. You could always make me laugh no matter what. Some of my memories of us playing together involve laughing so hard I would snort my juice. Hard to forget such good times.

I remember you called me the hour before I got married and told me how happy you were for me. I'm sorry I wasn't around as much as an adult, but I did enjoy watching your videos of bugs and nature. I always felt like you were meant to be like St. Joseph of Cupertino—you had such a different perspective on life, paired with our Italian wicked sense of humor.

Honey you have been in my prayers since I knew how to pray. You'll always have a Mass said in your name. You were a good person in life and I hope all the saints and angels come to take you to somewhere peaceful, where there are bugs to look at and fish to catch and Weather Channel worthy tornados to watch from afar.

I am missing you a lot today. It has already been a whole week without you and it still feels like I just lost you yesterday. It has taken me a few days, but I finally watched all three youtube videos you sent me last weekend. I wish I could reply to you with my reaction to those goofy spongebob spoofs. I love you.

“ Tyler came into my life in 2009 when I was 11 and he was 16 when our parents tried blending two families. Even after our parents divorced and we drifted apart, he remains the closest thing I’ve ever had to a In older brother brother.

For me, Tyler wasn’t a soft spoken “I’ll always be there for you” kind of brother. At a young age, he taught me that life isn’t fair and it will kick you down time and time again, and your only choice is to get back up and keep moving forward. He showed me what true strength is.

As a kid, he always made space for me. He let me into his room when no one else was allowed, turned his attic into a secret hideout and let me hang out there with him. He took me on midnight walks, gave me my first cigarette, and once tried to show me his BB gun was safe and nothing to be afraid of by firing it at a stuffed animal — turns out it was loaded and the safety was off lol. That had to have been almost 15 years ago, but I still tell that story and laugh every time.

We didn’t stay in touch as we got older. Life moved us in different directions. But I’ve always been quick to call him my brother.

I’ll miss him. I already do. I’ll always carry those memories with me — quiet, strange, funny, meaningful moments that have meant so much to me as I’ve gotten older. I love you, Tyler. Until we meet again ❤️

“ To our kind and sweet Lake Gaston next-door neighbor, Troy, our hearts ach for you. You are in our thoughts and prayers. Tyler sounds like a lovely soul, and I know you loved him with every beat of your heart.

I have no doubt that the angels were with Tyler when he took his last breath and escorted him into the presence of Christ. I pray that God will be with you and give you comfort and peace as only he can.

If we can be of any assistance, please let us know.

"Then you will experience God's peace, which exceeds anything we can understand. His peace will guard your hearts and minds as you live in Christ Jesus." _Philippians 4:7

Sincerely, Frank & Kay Smith

“ Tyler I met you on a delivery back from Conn. I was in New York when I found you on TikTok, I'll personally will never forget it. I was wiped out tired and your TikTok live was so interesting and entertaining that listening to it kept me awake. I sent you a follow and you ended up following me back. We became friends after that ff sake and through you I met a very awesome very caring TikTok family that loved and respected you, always looked out for you, and had your back. They made sure you ate they made sure you got rooms to stay they always helped. After realizing you were actually homeless and having been there myself for a stint I did my best to intervene in your life and make a difference. You and I both know that it wasn't easy because you were a hardheaded handful set in your ways but I understood that. We would bump heads from time to time which is expected but I still loved ya. When I watched you I saw and heard a very smart intelligent young man with a caring heart that had a massive amount of potential just no one willing to stick their neck out and get their hands dirty to guide you to it so you ended up meeting 🤝 TOUGH LOVE 🤝 . I unceremoniously took you under my wing and treated you like one of my kids. Always tried to give you the best advice definitely helping with your camping site locations. That one location next to the nursery was the best but you screwed that up and got busted and kicked out. Told you to be quiet back there ff sake! I did really like your fishing expeditions and cack walks. Your fishing expeditions were pretty entertaining but since you didn't eat the fish it was just catch and release. Sometimes I would give you money then a blast of shit or a severe talking to when I saw you effing up. I still had a deep respect for your character. I will say that you did teach me a few things like what breathing exercises were lol, at first I had no clue what that was. That one definitely had me stumped and I didn't understand until one day it clicked. Tyler I wish you would have had more of what you really wanted in life your TikTok family knew why you never left Bristow Virginia but Bristow Virginia wasn't in your corner. We saw how the locals people treated you. The shunning, calling you names, treating you like crap, even trying to run you over. If they would have given you half a chance and spoke to you with the same respect they give others and extending a hand they would have seen that you were an amazing person with a lot to offer. Your TikTok family still has your back buddy were talking about our stories and memories right now this very minute. Tyler you won't be forgotten trust me pal. You were definitely one of a kind. I don't even think you realize how many people you brought together from under that amazing moon you made us all look at. Some people in life come and go while others leave a mark, you left a mark my friend. C IN A C, LOOK AT THAT MOON FFSAKE, DBE, CACK WALK, GET THEM OUTTA HERE, NO FEEESH, GROUP BATTLES ARE AGAINST MY RELIGION, KICKED OUT. AIRHEADS. Definitely going to miss you buddy 🥺 tough love ❤️

“ Ty... you were a huge part of my life. I came across your TikTok live one day and I was instantly drawn to you. You reminded me so much of my own son who is struggling with so many things as you did . I am so honored to have been called your TikTok mom -milf . So glad I could be apart of your journey all though it was extremely difficult to watch some days .You were an inspiration to many people.You were strong,yet so weak .Your struggles became my struggles as I hurt when you were. I truly love you like one of my own and I'm glad I was able to help you through the hard times when many people wouldn't.All you ever wanted was to be loved and excepted by certain people who chose to treat you as you weren't human and had feelings.Well remember this Tyler James your TikTok family loved you dearly! And we never thought less of you because you were homeless. You deserved so much better than you got and I'm so sorry your life ended so soon.Also C in a C When I look at the moon ,see a raccoon or a blue Jay I'll remember you.Love always and forever your TikTok mom

“ Dear Tyler,

To my only son who I loved to the moon and back. I remember when you were born and weighted in at 9 lbs 6 ounces. The nurses used you as a model to show the new moms how to care for their new babies. Your beautiful smile and crazy hair was always of my envy. I will always remember your incredible skill of taking pictures and capturing the moment. I remember when I signed you up for taekwondo and you were so proud of breaking boards and wearing your outfit and belts. I remember when we finally bought our first townhouse and you and Brooke used to ride your razor scouters down the sidewalk and run outside without your shoes. I remember your dream to become a motorcycle cop. I think I still have the plastic cop that was on your toy motorcycle. I remember buying you your first car and praying everyday that you would be safe. I was always inspired by your artist abilities, musical talent and love for nature. Not a day went by without the thought of you and the pride I felt to call you my son. God bless you my son. Please take of my Mom, Renee and your best friend sachi.

“ Dear Tyler,

I miss you more than words can express. I don't know what life looks like without you. I keep expecting a message from you with a picture or a bizarre youtube video, like the YTP's we used to watch together. I don't know if I can hold things together in the family without you, but I know you would want me to try. To this day, no one has been able to make me laugh as hard as you could.

I will always remember our childhood fun: the Mr. Pillowhead show, crash dummies, playing beanie babies, or rescue heroes and barbies. In our old townhouse, your room was big so we had all our toys in there. We had a hideout in the storage space of your closet and built forts in there. In our other house, we would set up the tent in the basement and light it with our jack o lanterns and tap lights. We would hang out in there for hours playing Pokémon on the gameboys.

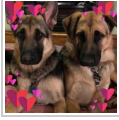

I loved joining your tiktok lives because I felt like you were hanging out with me. I couldn't get over seeing how the raccoons always paid you a visit and became your little friends. I was always inspired by your photography skills and tried to imitate how you took photos. My photos are quite lackluster compared to yours.

I love how you also loved Apollo and called him a "very playful pup." "Send pictures of bread," you would always say when requesting corgi pictures.

I have so many more fond memories with you. You were my baby brother and as I type "were" my eyes well up with tears. I don't want to accept that you are gone. I never thought I'd say I miss your calls at odd hours of the night. I know you were so worried about me when I was sick for so long and I wish you were still here to hear how sorry I am for the pain I caused you during that time. I cannot fill the huge void you have left and I cannot make people laugh like you could. I hope someday God will send me a sign that you are having a blast up there in heaven. You were kind to his creation and appreciated it so much more than a lot of people do.

I hope you are having a wonderful time being reunited with Aunt Debby, Mom and Papa Kish, Grandma and Grandpa Giove, Grandma Karen, Renee, Sachi, Rusty, and Dusty.

*I love you Tyler rest in peace you are with your grandma and Renee now 💕💕 We love you always, i will watch for dragonflies as they carry angel i know Renee comes on one that teases the dogs . We weill all see you one day again
We will see you then. Ypu are now with God where there is no pain no sadness only comfort
We will miss you very much
We love you Tyler*
