*"Daddy's Girl" - those two words will always define a part of me. You were the first man I ever loved, the one who showed me what kindness, strength, and patience truly looked like. When I was little, you called me your angel. You made me feel safe, cherished, and protected in a world that could be so uncertain. Now, the roles have changed. You're the angel watching over me from above. I can't hold your hand or hear your laugh anymore, but I feel you near in the quiet moments - in every sunrise, every breeze, every beat of my heart. I'll keep honoring you, Dad, by living with the same love and strength you taught me. You were, and always will be, my forever hero.

“ I was diagnosed with Idiopathic Pulmonary Fibrosis (IPF) four years ago. For over two years, I relied on prescription medications and therapies, but unfortunately, the symptoms continued to worsen. My breathing became more labored, and I experienced increasing fatigue and shortness of breath with even minimal activity. Last year, out of desperation and hope, I decided to try an herbal treatment program from NaturePath Herbal Clinic. Honestly, I was skeptical at first, but within a few months of starting the treatment, I began to notice real changes. My breathing became easier, the tightness in my chest eased, and I felt more energetic and capable in my daily life. Incredibly, I also regained much of my stamina and confidence. It's been a life-changing experience I feel more like myself again, better than I've felt in years. If you or a loved one is struggling with IPF, I truly recommend looking into their natural approach. You can visit their website at www.naturepathherbalclinic.com

“ He was my father, my hero, everything I learned about being a man I learned by emulating his every move. I used to go to work with him everyday during the summer I would get up early in the morning to go along with him. He did not like to drive alone, he loved company on long trips, someone just to talk to. I looked forward to it because I was able to spend time with him. He worked so hard and was often exhausted, I know he appreciated the extra set of hands. These experiences taught me the skills for a job I worked for 40 years of my life. I would ride a bike from Arlington to Annadale just to work a job to help my parents so my Dad could relax and sleep. I talk to him each day. I know he is listening. Go to your reward Dad you earned it. Thanks for a lifetime of Love and Friendship. I Love You Dad. God and Jesus please take care and bless him, he is in your loving hands now
