December 20, 1952 - March 18, 2021

CHRONICLE OF THE LEGEND BILL BROWN

“If I was to die, today or tomorrow, I’ve lived a good life.” – William L. Brown

William Lewis Brown, an immeasurable husband, dad, provider, and friend. His strength, his deep love, his infectious beautiful smile, his wisdom, his knowledge - and his fight has been embedded in us. That type of love remains forever victorious. We will forever carry with us, his legacy. As he would say, “Aint no expiration date on me”.

He could spend all day out on the river or the lake. Fishing from the bank or on the water with Sweet Jesus. “You gotta get ‘em while they biting” he would often say. And so, he did. With that perfect cast – perch, bass, and crappies would fill buckets. Putting up a fight, trophy-winning catfish were no match against him. Transitioning seasons, he loved to see the leaves change colors - to golden browns, reds, and oranges. Whether high up in his tree stand or on the ground; fall leaves beneath his feet, dogs on the trail, locked, loaded, and focused – Shoot Em Up Bill was sure to get the kill.

Hospitalized for 131 days in the ICU, he fought everything that came his way. He never stopped fighting! Doctors and nurses were amazed at his fight and volition. On March 18th , 2021 – he “put it in the Lord’s Hands.”

The family will host a Celebration of Continuance on Saturday, March 27th. Starting at 12pm. Location: 7432 Carver Road, Gainesville, VA 20155.

***COVID Restrictions will be highly enforced. If you have been in contact with someone who has covid or symptoms, please kindly refrain from joining us. The Celebration of Continuance will be live streamed.

“ Thinking bout you dad. You are missed and loved so much. I wanted to tell you all about my week but I couldn't call you. Blower. It's still all so unreal that I can't pick up the phone & call you. I miss our after work conversations so very much. I'm sure I'm getting on mamas nerves with all the calls & texts. I know your ok up there. Tell everyone I said hello and send my love. It's blah out here. Life sucks, sucks, sucks. I need you. I need your guidance. I feel lost just wondering. It's all just a day. I love you! I love you! I love you!! Keep watching over us. We miss you beyond hurts. It hurts. Babygirl “DBG”

“ As the Fall season sets in and the warm hues of gold, magenta and orange unfold amongst the trees I think of you often Dad. We share the love of this time of year and the smell of pumpkin spice, the Thanksgiving season, and Christmas too.

Today I am grateful. I'm grateful Dad that God loved us so very much, that he blessed us with YOU.

Time passes on, the memories however will never fade from our hearts. We shared some awesome times together Dad. Know that we love you more now, than ever before. Please continue to watch over us as you've always done. Mom, my sisters and I, we miss you so.

I listen for your voice in the still of the morning; knowing that today you rest with the MOST high in PARADISE now.

Thank you Dad for your sacrifice. Your amazing instruction, your wisdom, your strength.

From the depths of my heart, you will always be my #1. Until we meet again,
