“ To the family of William Hall, my sincere condolences and my apologies. I just found out. Willy and his mom will always be family to me. They took me in when I had nowhere else to go for quite some time when we were 14–16 years old with no questions asked. They even added an extra bed in Willys bedroom for me. To say we had some good times would be a huge understatement. He was my brother, and we hung out 24/7. I have lost contact with Willie for quite some time as I moved to Florida, I did see him one time when I got back and obviously it just wasn't the same as what I knew, but he was still Willy and it was super awesome to see him and hear his voice, brought back so many incredible memories and I didn't want to stay in touch with him but I guess it just wasn't meant to be. I will always remember everything honestly Willy always opened his heart and shared anything and everything he had without a second thought, and I'll never forget it!!! Rest easy my brother, and may the Lord accept you into his kingdom with golden streets & golden grass, and may your treasures be great!!! Hopefully we will meet again. again, my condolences to Jessica and his children, truly a giving and caring man.

“ Willy,

I'm going to miss you dearly. I apologize for biting you on the cheek when we were kids. Don't forget to pick up Killer on the Rainbow Bridge. He has been waiting for you for a long time. Give hugs and kisses to Papa and Grandma from me. We played a lot with your Star Wars and Hot Wheels toys when we were young. After you got the 1st Nintendo, we switched to that and played hours together. Your Mom has never let me forget that we drew all over her washer and dryer. We had a lot of fun together during those days and were very close. I love you forever.

“ Will, we may have had our differences and got divorced but we were married for 16 years and had 3 kids. There were a lot of ups and downs but there are so many good things that weren't mentioned about you. You were a diehard Redskins fan, you loved baseball especially watching the boys play. You couldn't play softball to save your butt so instead you umpired and even sometimes you weren't the best at that but hey at least you tried LOL. I still remember that first date a late-night trip to Wendy's lol what a cheap date I was. Unfortunately, the time came when we had to go our separate ways. That's when your battle began, and I thought at one point you were going to beat it and I had to do what I had to do to try and help you the best way I knew I could but when my help ended your fight ended as well. I'm sorry I failed you. I promise the kids will have a good life and will always remember you, I will never take that away from them. Rest easy Will, until we meet again.

“ Here are some photos of the kids from the last time you seen them and now. It's sad you didn't get to spend quality time with them the way it should've been. Unfortunately, this horrible disease took over and won over your kids and beat out the relationship with their dad. They do miss you, but they know you aren't struggling anymore and are in a better place. RIP. Love Brandon, Tyler, Payton, and Jess.
