It was there she celebrated joyful times at countless family gatherings, always tends to the large family with her inborn compassion, and tirelessly lends her helping hands to her nieces and nephews with the purest love.

“ Xiangqun is part of our big family. She is gone too fast and too early, leaving a big hole in everybody’s heart. She is a loving mother and dedicates her life to her only daughter Angela. She is also very kind aunt to her nieces and nephews. She took care of them after schools and lent a big helping hands in the kitchen. Xiangqun is a humble and genuine person who likes simple life with passion of travel and food. I remember we drove to Florida a few years back in an minivan together. She really liked the rides in Universal Studio and a big smoke turkey drumstick. She enjoyed every moment of the trip including horse wagon ride in historic Charleston downtown and all kinds of cuisines. Her passing is a great loss to our family. We are still in disbelief and very sad. She will always live in our heart and memory. May Xiangqun rest in peace. ”

“ I’m deeply saddened to hear of Xiangqun’s passing. Two years ago my daughter and I had the pleasure of spending 2 weeks in Morocco with Xiangqun and Angela. Xiangqun was always smiling and enjoyed every moment. Xiangqun and Angela shared a bond like no other I have ever seen. They were like sisters and best friends. I pray that the Almighty may Bless her and her soul rests in Peace. Ameen

“ I had the pleasure of meeting auntie Xiangqun through my friend Angela. She would often join us during our study sessions at GMU and watch her shows on her iPad. Every time I saw her, she always had a smile on her face. She was a food lover and enjoyed all different kinds of cuisines. The first time we went to Angela's new house, auntie cooked delicious food for us and also taught us how to make dumplings. I got to know auntie a little more during our Morocco trip. Despite not speaking the same language we often shared jokes between all of us.

I feel really sad knowing she has left this world. I pray that god ease the pain of Zhu Family and give them comfort during this difficult time.
