“ I have known Zella all my life. She was one of my favorite people. If you needed to know history of the family, Zella was the one to ask. I would always try to visit whenever I came home. She would always have something interesting to tell me. She related some stories I had never heard. We were cousins, but she knew all the stories of my childhood. I will never forget her. She was very intelligent and a wonderful teacher. She was one if the first converts of the Manassas Church of God and was always faithful. I will surely miss seeing her when I come home. She was a good friend.

“ Sister Zella as we called her at church was a very intelligent yet humble woman. She had so much history to share whenever you talked to her!! She taught school in Prince William County and recently shared with us that there was a time when she didn't have a car to drive so she just rode the bus with the children!!! She never had children of her own but took in all of those that came into her life with open, loving arms. She loved God and was faithful in living for Him and attending church services. She was in church just the week before she went to her heavenly home! We will miss her among us here but look forward to that eternal reunion. Our sincerest sympathies to the family.

“ I remember Miss Cornwell as being my first grade teacher at Woodbine School. Not the one that is still standing, but the one that was torn down after the other one was built. She kept a tight ship, Very strick, and would use her paddle in the blink of an eye. Years later, my second born had her as her first grade teacher. Nothing changed other than I think she got a new paddle, REST IN PARADISE MISS CORNWELL, YOU DESERVE IT AFTER TEACHING ME AND MY DAUGHTER, SHE WAS AND STILL IS THE HELLUN YOU CALLED HER.
